Morton Gift Fund Supporting Research in Chronic Fatigue Syndrome

Through clinical practice and research, the Center for Multidisciplinary Research on Chronic Fatigue Syndrome (CFS) and Gulf War Illness (GWI) is offering health care and conducting research that affects people's lives in real and meaningful ways. The center focuses on better understanding of the neuro-immune-endocrine interactions in CFS and GWI, and their role in the pathogenesis of these complex disorders. Dr. Nancy Klimas is the director of the center and a leading expert in CFS and GWI.

One of the easiest ways to support Dr. Klimas' initiatives is to get involved. We are grateful for the support we've received thus far and are excited that you would like to help us improve the lives of those affected by CFS and GWI. Please join us in combating CFS and GWI by giving a gift that funds the center's research and programmatic needs.

To make a contribution, please complete the pledge form below. Thank you in advance for becoming a friend of the Center for Multidisciplinary Research on CFS and GWI!
